When downloading multiple images at once, the images will need to be bundled together into one or more zip files.

You can choose one of these two options to download those zip files.

Download Option A -
You can download the zip files by clicking on the link(s) that are displayed after requesting the download.

Download Option B -
Enter you email address in the field provided then click Request.
This allows the system to bundle the files together in the background.
You will then receive an email once this is completed.
The email will contain a link that you can use to download the images.
This option is best for large downloads as it allows for faster and more stable downloading.
